DEATH OF LIEUT. SCOTT. By Extraordinary Express and Telegraph

TO THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE. By everland and extraordinary express to The Pribune, we have received the following important sews from Mexico : New-Orleans on the 10th instant, we have advices

Open and undisguised hostilities have at broken out between Santa Anna and Paredes. A manifeste has been issued by the latter, in which Puebla, in which the American party had fifteen men killed and the Mexicans one hundred. Mexican forces were commanded by Gen. Torretablished at the National Bridge; another of 1,200 men, under command of Gon. Cushing, at Jalapa; and a third of 2,000 men, under Gen. Lane, at Pue-

October. The rumor that he had escaped south toward Guatemals, was therefore untrue.

A sort of civil war had broken out among the willes. It originated in a quarrel between Padre sents and [Gen.?] Canalizo, and resulted in a mere battle between their respective clans. Pa-

Captain Walker's body remained unburied for modays. His death created an unusual sensation aroughout the whole army.

EVANGELINE, A Tale of Acadie: By HENRY WADS-worth Longrellow. Second Edition. (Pp. 163.) Buston: Ticknor & Co.

The fact that a Second Edition of this elegant The fact that a Second volume was called for before copies could be distributed to the Press evinces popularity in the Poet if not excellence in this particular Poem. We have not yet read 'Evangeline' thoroughly, and its metre is very displeasing to our unclassical taste,
